In partnerships with Nagoya University and National Chung Chang University, this Global Leadership programme in Geneva has been developed as an overseas component of their regular study programmes on campus.

Programme Objectives

This Global Leadership programme aims to provide future young leaders with an in-depth briefing and exposure to the global governance infrastructure and sustainable development debates. It is envisioned that such briefing and first-hand exposure will enable a more global perspective and strengthen global leadership quality. This learning will focus on a multistakeholder approach to promote a system thinking mind-set and inclusive practices.
